

Saint Patrick's week 2010

14th March 2010 – 20th March 2010

The whole world is Irish on St. Patrick's Day! And Dublin is the stage for the biggest and best St. Patrick's celebrations in the world, the St. Patrick's Festival. From March 12th – 17th thousands of Irish people and visitors alike will paint the town green for six fantastic, fun-filled days. St. Patrick's Festival is virtually bursting at the seams with street theatre, Irish music, dance, street spectacles, comedy, film, a treasure hunt, Irish language events and of course St. Patrick's Day Parade.

This is the background for our special St Patrick's week offer. One week packed with golf and good old fashion Irish fun. We suggest that you arrive on Sunday the 14th, in good time to settle down in your Irish home before the celebrations. Here is an indication of what your stay will comprise of:

Sunday 14th afternoon - Arrival

Short tour of the local area, rest and casual dinner, at home, with your hostess's family.

Monday 15th - Old Conna Golf Course

Leisurely breakfast followed by first round of golf. Refreshments in clubhouse. Free afternoon. Evening in pub for some Irish music.

Tuesday 16th - Powerscourt Estate and Golf

Visit to Powerscourt Estate and shops, early afternoon golf in Powerscourt's spectacular West Course. Informal dinner at home with hostess and friends.

Wednesday 17th – St Patrick's Day

Join the fun at the best St. Patrick's Day Parade in the world. An annual favourite, the Parade features highly original and inventive street theatre troupes, artists, giant puppetry, dancers and marching bands from Ireland and across the globe.

Thursday 18th - Golf and a movie

Early tee-time in Old Conna or a couple of hours on the driving range including some professional tuition. Leisurely lunch with friends at the clubhouse, free afternoon, evening at the cinema and a welcome supper at home afterwards.

Friday 19th – Option 1: Druid’s Glen Golf Club and Hooley night

Golf in beautiful Druids Glen, one of Dubliner's favourites. 19th hole refreshments. Evening at Johnnie Foxes Pub, one of Ireland's oldest and most famous traditional Irish Pubs, for dinner and a fun "Hooley Night" of traditional Irish music, dancing and entertainment.

Friday 19th- Option 2: Glendalough and farewell dinner
