

A tree is like a friend,
a friend that you can sow.
With a small and simple gesture,
thus can a forest grow.

When you water a tree,
at first it grows slowly.
With roots and leaves,
it finally becomes wholly.

A tree can provide a lot,
paper and wood included.
It also provides a shelter
for animals to feel secluded.

M. Eduarda Villani